Invoice & Pre-Pay

Invoice Account:

You can pay by monthly (or quarterly, if your volumes are low) invoice. You receive an invoice and details of all deliveries at the end of each month and your invoice total is deducted by Direct Debit approximately 28 days after the invoice date assuming you have not queried the amount.

Pre-Pay:

Using PayPal or a credit/debit card, you can put money into your account in advance (a minimum of £45 each time) and then use that money to pay for your deliveries as you go. When there is insufficient money left in your account for the ad you currently want to deliver you will be prompted to add more money to your account.

Optional PDF Resize:

Ad.fast now offers an optional re-size function that allows for cropping of un-wanted material as well as proportional and disproportional size changes to meet publishers ad size criteria.

If you use the tool and accept the resize you will be charged the extra fee on top of any other charges that may apply.

PAYG

PAYG:

You can simply pay for each individual delivery as you go, using PayPal or a credit/debit card. The charges for this type of account are higher than for the Invoice and Pre-Pay account types.

There are different charges depending on whether you are sending a Regional or National press ad and whether you require a colour conversion to the correct colour ICC for the publication you are sending to, but the system shows you exactly how much each job you send is costing you.
